

TITLE:           STUDENT FINANCIAL AID

The Student Financial Aid Program is designed to assist qualified students with insufficient funds to begin or continue their educational goals. Although few families can afford to pay all college expenses out of current salaries or savings, they are expected to provide, as determined by financial aid analysis, a certain amount of the student's expenses. Students are also expected to utilize a portion of their savings and/or earnings from employment to meet their educational expenses. When these parent and student obligations have been met, the college, community, and/or government will attempt to provide additional funding through the Financial Aid Program if any shortfall, financial need, exists.

Eligibility guidelines for Financial Aid Programs are explained in the college catalog.
